PARTICULARS, of the LOSS of the FRANCIS, an English Transport.

HALIFAX, (N. Scotia) JUNE 5.

As the fate of the Francis Transport has been for some time past a subject of great public and private anxiety, and as her unfortunate ship-wreck is now ascertained, we have endeavored, as far as possible, to collect all the particulars which are as yet known of this dreadful catastrophe.

It will be a satisfaction, though a melancholy one, to the friends of the unfortunate sufferers, to be relieved from the suspence in which they have long been held with regard to them—and as the mind is particularly interested in the last scenes, attendant on these we love, so will it contemplate alternately the pleasing prospect they had on the morning of the 22d of December of soon reaching their destined port, and the horrors of the dreadful night which followed—terminated their hopes, and involved nearly 40 persons in one common destruction.

Lieut. Scambler, of his majesty's Cutter Trespassy, on his passage from this place to Newfoundland, was directed to stop at the Isle of Sable—to obtain information if possible of the Francis or any other unfortunate vessel that might have been wrecked there during the winter, and to land some animals, which the humanity of his excellency Sir John Wentworth, had committed to his care. We have been favoured with the following letter from that gentleman to Captain Murray, senior officer on this station.

His Majesty's Tender Cutter, Trespassy, at Sea, 17th May, 1800.

SIR,

Agreeable to your orders I proceeded to Sable Island, and on Tuesday morning the 13th May, I went on shore, and landed the ewe, goat, sow, and two pigs, sent by Sir John Wentworth; after staying there near an hour, without discovering any person on the Island, and seeing a schr. at anchor in the N. E. Arm, being some distance from the Cutter, I returned on board, intending to beat up to where she lay, but the current prevented me, it running at the rate 1½ miles an hour S. W. by S. About 4 in the afternoon, I discovered her under sail, I immediately weighed, made sail and spoke her: she proved to be the Dolphin of Birrington, laden with fish, seal skins, and seal oil, she had several trunks, very much damaged on board, and appeared to be washed on shore, one trunk was directed, His royal highness Prince Edward, No. 2. another trunk directed capt. Sterling of the 7th Regiment of foot, both empty, also a trunk, containing two great coats, the livery, worn by the Servants of his Royal Highness. The master of the schr. informed me, that he had two men on the island the winter, on the Sealing concern who had built a hut on the east end of the Island—the two men being on board, I learnt from them, that about the 22d December last, after a very severe gale of wind from the S. E. a woman was found washed on shore, on the south side of the island; also, the trunks before mentioned, twelve horses, two cows, one bull, and 2 sheep, all drowned (the horses were shod) and that of the three boats, no name could be distinguished on them, the master of the schr. whose name is Reynolds, gave me some papers, which I have sent by the Pilot to you.

The Island bears a kind of coarse grass, dried up, nearly resembling coarse hay, and large platts of green, something like watercresses. I think the animals I left will do well. I saw no horses, but was informed by the master of the schooner that there were some on the Island, and a plenty of rats,

I am Sir,
Your most obedient humble servt.
JOSEPH SCAMBLER, Lieut.

Robert Murray, Esq.
Capt. of the H. M. S. Asia, &c.

In addition to the information contained in the above letter, we learn from the Pilot of the Trespassey, who arrived here with Lieutenant Scambler's letter—That the men who wintered on the Island informed him, that on the 22d December, they observed a large Snow, at a little distance from the N. E. Bar, she was endeavouring to beat off all the day. The weather was remarkably fine for a winter's day but the wind was extremely light and baffling, that at night she had made no great progress. As the day shut in the weather began to thicken, and was soon followed by a tremendous gale from the S. E. which continued with extreme violence through the night. In this gale the Francis must have been driven on the Sands and in the course of the night have gone to pieces, as neither the Snow, or any part of her, was to be seen in the morning. Soon after the storm had abated, the Lady above mentioned, was discovered. She had a ring on her finger, but not being able to get it off, the men declared they buried it with her. Not being able to obtain the ring, there was no other circumstance from which it could be certainly ascertained who she was.

Besides the trunks, &c. mentioned in Lieutenant Scambler's letter, we understand a number of other articles were saved, which have been carried in the vessel to Barrington.

The Francis was a Snow of About 280 tons burthen, reputed an excellent vessel. The masters name was Letsom. She sailed the 25th of October, from Portsmouth, in company with the America, mail ship, and a number of other vessels, under convoy of his majesty's ship Bonetta. A succession of gales followed them after their departure; the America, dismasted, got back to Portsmouth, and the Bonetta, with great difficulty, reached Lisbon, a perfect wreck. The Francis, apparantly more fortunate than they, had crossed the Atlantic, and nearly reached her destination, when her progress was arrested by those fatal quicksands which surround that destructive island.

Names of the passengers in the Francis.

Doctor Capeland, Mrs. Cape, and two children, and a servent maid, Capt. Holland, 44th, Captain Sterling, Fusiliers, Lieut. Mercier, Royal Artillery, Lieut. Sutton, Fusiliers, Lieutenant Roebuck, Fusiliers, Volunteer Oppingshaw, Serjeant Moore, Private; Thomas King, private: Abbot, sixteenth Lieutenant Dragoons; Judd, coachman to his Royal Highness; Nicholson Johnson, Gardner Bloomfield, stable boys to his Royal Highness, a woman house keeper to Lady Wentworth.

A gentleman who was on board the Francis just before she sailed, says her crew consisted of about nineteen persons.

Every season that passes points out most strongly the propriety of establishing two or three families on the Isle of Sable.—Within three years property to a great amount has been cast on that island; a large proportion of it has been saved and carried away by persons who only visit the Island for the purpose of wrecking. Many lives which might often be saved if assistance could be afforded. And even where vessels and their crews are totally lost, how great would be the satisfaction, as in the case of the Francis, to almost certain to a certainty the fate that had awaited them. Not only therefore, the desire of saving the lives of our fellow creatures, but the above considerations ought to operate to the forming some public plan to effect so desirable an object.

PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 26.

Mr. Pickering is charged in the Aurora with having held the following agencies;

As agent for supplying the North Western territory with stationary.

As agent for the South Western Territory.

As Agent for paying foreign ministers.

As Agent for settling the difference with Georgia.

And the writer asks, we should be glad to know the amount per cent. which he drew on these agencies.

To all this we have a full, clear, and unequivocal answer.

These agencies were annexed to the department of state for convenience of business. The secretary acted merely as an auditor—or as the medium through which the monies appropriated by act of congress passed, but WITHOUT ONE CENT OF COMMISSIONS OR PERQUISITES.

For this unquestionable fact, we have the respectable authority of a gentleman fully conversant in the business of Mr. Pickering's office. We challenge the whole horde of jacobin scribblers to prove one tittle to the contrary.

The first three columns in the Aurora of this morning, are wholly taken up with this subject of agency. It is needless to add that they are false from beginning to end.

Alexandria, July 1.

President Washington's valedictory address is the moſt invaluable legacy ever bequeathed by a ſtateſman to his country. The following extract illuſtrates, with prophetic ſagacity, the horrors of the French revolution. The character and conduct of Buonaparte are here drawn in colours ſo ſtrong, that one would almoſt ſuppoſe a perſonal application was intended.

"The alternate domination of one faction over another, ſharpened by a ſpirit of revenge natural to party diſſention, which, in different ages and countries, has perpetrated the moſt horrid enormities, is itſelf a frightful deſpotiſm. But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent deſpotiſm. The diſorders and miſeries which reſult gradually incline the minds of men to ſeek ſecurity and repoſe in the abſolute power of an individual—and ſooner or later, the chief of ſome prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this diſpoſition to the purpoſes of his own elevation, on the ruins of public liberty."

Americans, beware!—reſt aſſured that the object of thoſe who attempt to excite a jealouſy and diſtruſt againſt the government of your choice, is nothing leſs than to eſtabliſh a deſpotiſm of the ſame kind.

[Prov. Pap.]

COMMERCIALLY IMPORTANT.

Extract of a letter from the American Conſul at Surrinam, to the ſecretary of State, dated 14th May, 1800

"I have the honor to inform you that his excellency the Governor, has this day communicated to me, that veſſels of the United States are no longer permitted to take in produce on freight, or otherwiſe, for England, and allowed to land only lumber, fiſh and flour—and to take away in payment therefor molaſſes only.

As, in conſequence of the Governor's proclamation of the ——— allowing neutral veſſels to take away any produce, giving bonds to land the ſame in England, letters were written to merchants in the United States, adviſing to ſend veſſels here to take freight, it ſeems neceſſary that the revocation of this privilege ſhould be generally known. This moment his excellency's proclamation on the ſubject is ſhewn to me; but there is no time to procure a copy to tranſmit to you by this conveyance.

Officers of the Britiſh cuſtoms are appointed to ſupercede thoſe appointed by the commander in chief at the ſurrender of the colony. Inſtructions from his majeſty's miniſters have been lately received concerning the navigation and trade to this colony: I have ſeen them They are written in a preſſing, cenſuring ſtyle, againſt the admiſſion of neutrals to a participation in the trade any farther than abſolute neceſſity will juſtify and require.

The admiſſion of Europ ean neutrals is poſitively forbidden, and American veſſels are limited to the landing of lumber, fiſh and flour, unleſs the Governor by proclamation declares that the colony is in want of beef and pork. In regard to the taking away produce, moloſſes and rum are only allowed, but the language is not ſo poſitive in regard to this reſtriction, as they appear to underſtand that neither rum or money are here to be found. The proclamation of the Governor nevertheleſs intimates, that, at preſent, he ſhall execute theſe inſtructions ſtrictly."

SALEM, JUNE 21.

The ſhip William and Henry. Thomas Beckford, maſter, belonging to Mr. Wm. Gray, jun. of this port, ſailed from Beverly April 24th bound for Amſterdam.—On May 5th, lat. 44. 7, N. long. 49 50, W. at half paſt 3 o'clock in the morning, the ſhip ſtruck a lump of ice, apparently not bigger than the ſhips long boat, which the captain ſuppoſes ſtove in her bows, ſhe ſiling directly upon her ſtriking (lay 5 minutes) the people having juſt time to ſave themſelves in the long boat, which floated from the chocks between the main and fore maſts.

After they had all got into the boat, they ſaw the binnacle floating from the ſhip, by which means they fortunately ſaved a compaſs, and directed their courſe for St. Mary's, Newfoundland, where they arrived, after being in the boat 7 days without any ſubſiſtance whatever, except a lump of ice, the bigneſs of a water bucket and three cod fiſh, which they caught the third day after leaving the ſhip, having a lead and hooks, baited in the boat, which they had uſed the day before, but no line, except a rope which they ſtranded for that purpoſe; having ſaved a part of the ſhips royals and ropes as ſhe lay upon her beam ends, they made ſails for the boat, which, with the compaſs, were of great aſſiſtance to them, the weather being extremely foggy.

On their arrival at St. Mary's, they proceeded for the port of St. Johns; where the captain bought a ſhallop and with his crew, 14 in number, proceeded for this port and arrived yeſterday, all well.

NEW-YORK, JUNE 25.

A gentleman this morning put in our poſſeſſion a Glaſgow paper of May 1st. received by the Andromache, containing Lord Minto's account of the engagement in Italy, on the 6th of April, between general Melas and general Maſſena; by which it appears that the Auſtrians were ſucceſsful; made 300 priſoners, among which were ſeveral officers of diſtinction In the ſame paper we find a French account, which ſtates, that on the 6th and 8th of April, Maſſena had rallied and defeated the Auſtrians with very conſiderable loſs —These accounts appearing to us ſo extremely contradictory we dare not hazard an opinion; therefore copy them both and leave our readers to draw ſuch inferences as may ſeem to them moſt probable.

This paper contains a number of other articles which have not appeared here; but the late hour which we received it prevents us from making any further extracts this day.

From the London Gazette Extraordinary.

Downing ſtreet, April 28.

A diſpatch, of which the following is an extract, has been received from the Right Hon. Lord Minto, his majeſty's Envoy Extraordinary and Miniſter Plenipotentiary at Vienna, by the Righ Hon. Lord Grenville, his majeſty's Secretary of State for the Foreign Department.

Vienna, April 17, 1800.

My Lord,

I have the ſatisfaction to acquaint your Lordſhip, that the campaign has opened in Italy, by an important ſucceſs on the ſide of the Auſtrians. On the 6th inſt. General Melas attacked the ſeveral poſts occupied by the French to the northward and weſtward of Savona and Vado, and drove them from the poſitions of Torre la de Buona, Monte Noti, and ſeveral others; ſome of theſe poſts were ſtrongly intrenched, and one of them defended by 3000 men; but they were carried by the courage and conduct of the Auſtrian troops, who appear to have acquired much honor on this day.

The enemy retired with precipitation on Vado and Savona, leaving their cannon and about 300 priſoners, among which is Chief de Brigade, and ſeveral officers of diſtinction. In the night between the 6th and 7th, the troops evacuated Vado, having deſtroyed the ſtores and ſpiked the cannon and retired by ſea towards Nice. Their number is ſuppoſed to have been between ſeven and eight hundred.

The Auſtrians took poſſeſſion of the fort of Vido in the morning, and found ſeventeen pieces of heavy artillery. General Melas immediately inveſted Savona.

FRENCH ACCOUNT.

Army of Italy—Nice, April 10.

On the 6th General Melas, at the head of 18,000 men, attacked in perſon the Bochetta, but was repulſed with conſiderable loſs On the ſame day 12,000 Auſtrians marched by way of the Bormida, and took poſſeſſion of Montelezzo, Savona and Vado. The French troops retreated into the citadel of Savona.

General Maſſena, on the 8th, advanced againſt Paſſarello and Montenotti, and cut off the diviſion of the enemy which was at Savona, making 2,700 priſoners among whom was the Gen. Zubi. He purſued the enemy in their flight.

Nice is no longer in a ſtate of ſeige, and the government of the police has paſſed from the military to the civil authorities. The Perfect of the department is not yet arrived. The 68th demi-brigade, which was here in garriſon, has been ordered to Port Maurice—it has been replaced by Poliſh troops. [Official Journ.]

The Preſident of the United States arrived here laſt evening; and proceeded immediately on his journey to his ſeat in Maſſachuſetts.

Commodore Truxton arrived in town laſt evening, from Amboy.

PITTSBURGH, JUNE 21.

With pleaſure we lay before our readers the following letter from the late Secretary of War, to the Little Turtle, an influential and principal Indian Chief.

War Department, 30th May, 1800.

Friend and Brother,

Being about to retire from the Department of War, and to return to my houſe and fields near Baltimore, in Maryland, I could not think of leaving the office without conveying to you my earneſt requeſt, that you will continue to the United States your friendly and honourable attachment. I ſhall ſincerely and earneſtly recommend to my ſucceſſor, to cultivate the good will of all our red brethern, and particularly your friendſhip.

It would have given me pleaſure, had it been proper, to have taken home your picture, which I have preſerved in my office, this however, cannot be permitted; It muſt remain to my ſucceſſor; but I ſhall carry with me the remembrance of your fidelity, your good ſenſe your honeſt regard for your own people, your ſenſibility and eloquent diſcourſe in their favour, and what is precious to me as an individual, a belief that I ſhall always retain your friendſhip.

I give you my hand, and pray the Great Spirit to protect and make you happy.

Farewell Brother,

JAMES M'HENRY.

There is alſo a ſeat for griſt and ſaw mills on it, equal to any in that neighbourhood, and upon a never failing ſtream of water. The upland is rich, with plenty of timber, and part under cultivation. For Sale,

A Very valuable TRACT of LAND, in the lower end of King William County, in the State of Virginia, finely timbered with oak, cypreſs, &c. beautifully ſituated at the confluence of the rivers Pamunkey and Mattapony, and in its whole extent bounded by thoſe two rivers.

This Land is generally known by the name of the Weſt Point Tract, from its vicinity to a little village of that name. It contains about 2,200 acres of high land, and 700 of fine valuable marſh or meadow.

To detail the many advantages attached to this land, cannot well be done in a ſmall compaſs; ſuffice it to ſay, without the aid of exaggeration, that few tracts exceed it in fertility of ſoil, in pleaſantneſs, healthineſs of ſituation, and the abundant other gifts which nature has laviſhed upon it. Fiſh of various kinds, oyſters, wild fowl, and the beſt crabs in the ſtate, are plentifully to be had in the adjoining rivers and creeks.

It is preſumable that no perſon will purchaſe ſuch a tract of land without having ſufficient proof of its value; yet there is one circumſtance ſo ſingularly advantageous, that it ought not to be omitted, which is, that there is no part of it more than half a mile from navigation, and that for veſſels of any burthen.

The terms of ſale will be made known by application to the ſubſcribers, who will warrant the title.

Valuable Property
FOR SALE.

THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS FOR SALE,
That valuable Property known by the name of

Clifton Paper-Mill,

With all the improvements, and 50 acres of Land; moſt of which is in wood. The mill is an over-ſhot, with a wheel of 20 feet 9 inches, on as conſtant a ſtream as any in this part of the country. She is a two vat mill, and every way calculated for that purpoſe, with two iron preſſes of the beſt conſtruction, made by Reynolds and Sharpleſs, Brandywine Mills, a ſettling pond of fine water at the mill door, with an excellent pump for conveying the water to the engines, a ſize kettle, moulds, flats, and every other apparatus for carrying on the Paper-Making buſineſs.

The mill-houſe is 50 by 28 feet, two ſtories high, with a loft—There are alſo two vat-houſes, a drying houſe, and rag houſe, convenient to the mill, with a barn ſheded on each ſide, ſufficient to hold ten horſes; a convenient dwelling houſe (not quite finiſhed) with a kitchen, meat-houſe, and corn-houſe; the whole of which has been built within theſe 4 years paſt. There is a thriving young orchard of peach and other fruit trees, juſt beginning to bear.

This property lies within 2½ miles of Dumfries, on tide-water, and within about 34 miles of Alexandria, City of Waſhington, and G. Town, at which places the manufacturer finds a ready market, and where a large proportion of materials are collected. A water conveyance offers almoſt at any time, there being ſeveral craft which conſtantly trade to and from the above places. Falmouth and Fredericksburg are within 25 miles; theſe, with the places above, are ſufficient to vend all the manufacture that can be made. The ſituation of this property muſt render it a deſirable acquiſition to any perſon inclined to engage in this line of buſineſs; and particularly ſo, as the Federal Government is juſt upon removing to the City of Waſhington, which muſt, of courſe, make the demand ſtill greater. It is deemed unneceſſary to ſay any thing more reſpecting the premiſes, as it is preſumed any perſon inclined to purchaſe would wiſh to ſee them. Nothing would induce me to part with this valuable property, but for the preſſing demands againſt thoſe concerned, who are anxious to diſcharge them; therefore a great bargain may be expected. Any further information required may be known on application to
